

Youth

There goes the days

Won't come back again

Am I phased or glad to see the back of them

See all the magic of youth has gone into obscurity

See, all my thoughts have been drenched with responsibility

See I don't understand but I'm still abiding

I don't comprehend the world that surrounds me

(CHORUS)

Cause I've been finding myself excepting the rules

Settled in my skin even though I'm foolish sometimes

And I say Oh my god I guess this is the end

This is the end of Youth

There goes my ways

Must have grown out of them

Though I've changed still got these questions

Like who are we and where has all the world come from

Who are you to tell me what I must become

See I don't understand but I'm still abiding

I don't comprehend the world that surrounds me

(CHORUS)

Cause I've been finding myself excepting the rules
Settled in my skin even though I'm foolish sometimes
And I say Oh my god I guess this is the end
This is the end of Youth
Of youth

See I don't understand but I'm still abiding
I can't comprehend the world that surrounds me

(CHORUS)

Cause I've been finding myself excepting the rules
Settled in my skin even though I'm foolish sometimes
And I say Oh my god I guess this is the end
This is the end of Youth
Cause I've been finding myself excepting the rules
Settled in my skin even though I'm foolish sometimes
And I say Oh my god I guess this is the end
This is the end of Youth
