

Tired

My life is due a drastic change

It's time that I re arrange

All of the things that bring me down

I've just woken up to the sadness I'm bound

(CHORUS)

Tired of being the one who's looked down to

Tired of being the one who lives through you

I'm trying to be the one who makes the rules

Years have passed with the same routines

I don't know how I survive the regime

I guess I've grown used to being this way

But a change is due despite what you say.

(CHORUS)

Tired of being the one who's looked down to

Tired of being the one who lives through you

I'm trying to be the one who makes the rules

All I want is to earn what's mine

So I don't lose the length of my spine

I need this for peace of mind

But there's too much pressure

Too much pressure

Too much pressure

On me

On me

On me

(CHORUS)

Tired of being the one who's looked down to

Tired of being the one who lives through you

I'm trying to be the one who makes the rules

Tired of being the one who's looked down to

Tired of being the one who lives through you

I'm trying to be the one who makes the rules
